

ALL RECORDS SURPASSED.

This Is The Greatest Crop Year
In The World's History.

KENTUCKY CROPS ARE SHORT

But Rest Of The Country
Swells Increased Yield To Highest Work.

More than a billion and a half bushels of food and fodder crops in excess of the crops grown last year are shown by the August report of the Agricultural Department as having been grown this year in the United States. An increase of 706,000,000 bushels over last year is shown in the four principal grain crops alone and it is believed that, if the government figures had been compiled after instead of before the recent general rains is the corn belt, another 100,000,000 bushels could have been added with safety.

In cold figures which represent the best ability of a standing army of trained observers covering the entire country, the showing is:

	Govt. est., Aug. 1912, bu.	Govt. final, 1911, bu.	Increase, bu.
Wheat.....	660,000,000	621,000,000	39,000,000
Corn.....	2,811,000,000	2,631,000,000	180,000,000
Oats.....	1,207,000,000	922,000,000	285,000,000
Barley.....	302,000,000	160,000,000	142,000,000

RECORD HAY CROP.

The hay crop is estimated at 73,000,000 tons, the largest ever grown in the United States, and compares with 47,444,000 tons produced last year. This difference of over 25,000,000 tons, if reduced to the equivalent of sixty-pound bushels, as in wheat, would equal about 832,000,000 bushels.

The potato crop, not counting sweet potatoes is 371,000,000 bushels this year, or 78,000,000 more than the 293,000,000 bushels crop raised last year.

In the whole list of important agricultural items there is not one, except a trifling difference of 2,000,000 bushels in buckwheat, that has not produced more bountifully this year than last.

In some important instances all records of yields have been broken.

CORN CROP NEAR RECORD.

The country's corn crop, estimated at 2,811,000,000 bushels, will be the largest in the nation's history, with the exception of the years 1906 and 1910, the former being the banner year, with 2,927,000,000 bushels. As for the wheat crop, estimated at 660,000,000 bushels, that will rank fifth in size during the past twenty years.

The oats crop will be the largest the country has gathered, surpassing by 21,000,000 bushels that of 1910, the previous record. In barley, too, this year will establish a new record, the estimated yield of 1,207,000,000 being 24,000,000 bushels greater than that of 1906, the previous best year. The yield of rye, 35,000,000 bushels, will equal that of 1910, the former record year.

Of potatoes, which will amount this year to 371,000,000 bushels, only 1909, with its 389,000,000 bushels, produced a larger yield.

SHORT CROPS

As Reported By State Commissioner of Agriculture.

The report for August on condition of crops in Kentucky is somewhat of a damper for farmers. The Commissioner says that in the Burley tobacco district growers have become discouraged and have gone back to stock raising and some of the counties report as low as 25 per cent. in acreage.

Wheat is reported as being not over 9.3 yield per acre. As it costs not less than $12.50 per acre to raise and market wheat, and as it is bringing only one dollar per bushel the farmers are losing just $3.50 on every acre.

HORSE RUNS AMUCK

And Causes Considerable Damage To Vehicles.

A horse attached to one of Friedman's delivery wagons ran off yesterday morning and caused considerable loss to different parties. Starting near the residence of E. M. Flack he ran out South Main street as far as the Woodbridge corner, where he ran into Monroe Bullard's buggy, turning it completely upside down, frightening the horse attached to it and causing him to break the harness in several places. The runaway animal then took a fresh start in another mad run. He didn't go very far before he ran into another buggy, doing considerable damage. Not content with the wreckage he had already caused, he was again on the run and when stopped he had about spent his energy and had become quite tractable. Mr. Friedman's loss was slighter than might have been expected.

The yield of rye is a little above that of wheat, being 10.14 bushels per acre, and the price is the same as wheat.

Oats is above the average, reported as being 25.1 bushels per acre.

Corn has improved some and shows a condition of 84.5 per cent. yield. Kentucky will have a fairly good crop of corn, but not a record-breaker by any means.

The final acreage of dark tobacco is estimated at 91.9 per cent.; condition 73.7.

Potatoes show a condition of 96 per cent.; garden truck nearly 100 per cent.

The apple crop is about three-fourths of a crop. Peaches not over one-eighth of a crop.

The Commissioner also says the Kentucky farmer will have to get unusually high prices for his products to make any great amount of money in the year 1912.

PREACHING

At West Mt. Zoar Next Sunday.

Rev. J. A. McCord will preach at West Mt. Zoar next Sunday morning. Mr. McCord has been pastor of the First Baptist church at Pinckneyville, Ill., for two years. He and Mrs. McCord arrived here the first of the week to spend a couple of weeks with Mr. McCord, on North Main street. The congregation of Mr. McCord's home church will turn out in large numbers to hear him and he will be glad to preach to them in the old church where he was converted.

"Jack the Ripper" Caught.

"Jack the Ripper," whose innumerable victims during the past ten months have been mulatto girls, is believed to have been captured by the arrest of Henry Brown, at Atlanta. He confessed to the murder of Eva Green and Sarah White, comely yellow girls. Brown's wife gave the information which led to his arrest. Physicians say Brown is a pervert. The negro population of Atlanta has been kept in a state of terror for the past year and a half by mysterious murders. Brown admits knowledge of eighteen other murders.

Tobacco.

The market continued quiet and easy during last week, with small demand and light offerings. Dealers who have tobacco on hand are selling at the following quotations:

Lugs—Low, $5 to $6; common, $6 to $6.50; medium, $6.50 to $7.25; good, $7.25 to $8; fine, $8 to $8.50. Leaf—Low, $3.50 to $3; common, $3 to $4; medium, $4 to $4.50; good, $4.50 to $5; fine, $5 to $5.50. Sales for the week were 44 hogheads, for the year, 2,550 hogheads. There were no receipts during the week. Stock on sale, 2,000.

OPEN-AIR CONCERTS

Probability That in a Short
Time They Will Be Put On Here.

WHAT ABOUT VIRGINIA PARK?

Band Director Lebkuecher Says
Concerts are Being Seriously Considered.

Everybody will be more than glad to know there is a prospect of a series of open air concerts to be given by the Third Regiment Band before the chilly nights of fall come.

The Kentuckian would like to be able to make a positive announcement, and may be able to do so in a few days. The matter was broached to Mr. Lebkuecher the other day and he said he had been thinking the matter over since the band returned from the army maneuvers at Annis-ton.

He said the band boys had about recovered from their strenuous work while in camp and had resumed regular rehearsals. He has talked the matter over with his musicians and others and plans have been formulated looking toward weekly concerts to begin in the near future. He was hopeful that the plans would go through all right, but was not able just then to give out a positive statement.

As to whether the concerts will be given at different points, as was done four years ago, was a matter to be further considered. He is of the opinion that the concerts should be given in Virginia Park. There are several reasons for this.

In the first place there would be no blocking of the streets and no interference by the passing of vehicles. Again, all noise and interruption would be avoided, but the greatest reason for going to the park is that ladies and children and the older citizens could sit down on the grass, and many of them could be provided with seats, thus enjoying the music far more than having to stand during the entire evening or content themselves with sitting on the curb-ing.

Our people have never enjoyed anything more than the concerts given by the largest and best musical organization outside of Louisville four years ago and it is to be hoped that those interested in perfecting the arrangements will in a short time have everything arranged to their satisfaction.

There are only six more games of league ball to claim attention and at this season of the year times are necessarily dull and prosaic and the free concerts will fit in nicely to do away with the monotony of the nights before us. Everybody will unite with us in making the demand for the concerts, no matter when they may begin. Somebody get busy and help the band out in their plans. If the band is willing, everybody else should be, but the band needs assistance. Will they receive it? Progressive citizens, to the front!

TO WORK ROADS.

To-day Is Set Apart By Fiscal Court For The Purpose.

This is the day set apart by the Fiscal court as Good Roads day in Christian county and the people generally are expected to turn out with teams and hands and spend the day in repairing the county high ways, which are woefully out of repair on account of the many hard rains.

GEN. BUCKNER.

DESERVED TRIBUTE

Paid John Chilton, New Warden Of Eddyville Prison.

The new Warden of the Branch Penitentiary at Eddyville, Hon. John B. Chilton, of Hopkinsville, was a good selection, and will come as near measuring up to the standard of men fitted for the place as any one that could have been selected. He is a "wheel-horse" Democrat, and, as known to many in this section, was one of the "spokes" in the "big wheel" of last year's campaign in the Western section. We predict for him a successful administration of the Eddyville prison affairs. He succeeds the Hon. Henry T. Hagerman, one of the best and most popular Wardens ever in charge of the State's prisons.—Princeton Leader.

during the Mexican and Civil wars, and who served as governor of Kentucky, after laying down his sword, is in Louisville for a visit to his soldier son, Simon Bolivar Buckner, Jr., of Fort Thomas. As soon as the general got squared around his hotel, and had figured as the center of an old-fashioned levee, he said he intended to enjoy every minute of his stay, despite his ninety years.

"You know," he confided to the newspaper men, "I don't get old like a lot of people. Why, I'm up till 12 o'clock or later every night reading the newspapers and magazines, and I find plenty to keep me awake."

Gen. Buckner figured as vice-presidential candidate on the gold democratic ticket in 1896. He says he is as keenly interested in politics as he ever was. He declares he's "strong for Wilson."

DOUBLE WEDDING.

Two Couples From Guthrie Utilize Judge Knight.

The general monotony about the temple of justice which prevails during dog-days was smashed for a period last Tuesday.

County Clerk Stowe was waited on by J. P. Abston and Miss Pearl Hawkins and I. F. Abston and Miss Susie Wood, who made an urgent call for licenses to marry. In a few minutes the law was complied with and Judge Knight was called into the clerk's office and requested to tie nuptial knots for the quartette, and proceeded at once to make the four twos. They returned to Guthrie on the first train.

Killed His Father.

Convicted of the murder of his father, Earl Pettie, fourteen years old, was given an indeterminate term of from two to twenty-one years in the penitentiary in Circuit Court at Murray Monday. Owing to the boy's age he will be taken to the reform school to serve until he is twenty-one years old. A few months ago the boy shot his father, T. F. Pettie, a farmer, because the latter had whipped him.

Three Different Kinds.

Oakland City, Ind., Aug. 12.—The queerest freak in the vegetable line of the season is being exhibited here by W. C. Roush. It resembles a gourd and pomgranate and grew on a vine that is producing cantaloupes and cucumbers. The seed was planted for cucumbers, but the vine bore both cantaloupes and cucumbers and on another branch the freak was grown.

DAVIS PARK ASSOCIATION

Sends Representatives To Ask Fiscal Court For Aid.

READY TO BEGIN WORK.

Resolution Introduced Favoring a Generous Appropriation.

Gen. Bennett H. Young of Louisville, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate veterans and president of the Jefferson Davis Home Association; Capt. John H. Leathers of Louisville, treasurer of the association, and Capt. S. A. Cunningham of Nashville, editor of the Confederate Veteran, appeared before an informal meeting of the Christian County Fiscal Court Tuesday afternoon to urge an appropriation by the county for the benefit of the proposed memorial park at Jefferson Davis' birthplace, at Fairview, on the Christian-Todd line. While no formal action was taken, the magistrates expressed themselves as favoring the proposed resolution providing for a generous appropriation. The Todd county court will be asked for a similar appropriation.

This morning the visitors motored to Fairview and inspected the site embracing the actual location of the log cabin in which Mr. Davis was born that has been bought and which is to be converted into a park. They stated that matters were now in such shape that the work of cleaning up and beautifying the grounds, making driveways, etc., would be begun at once and that the memorial hall would probably be built next year.

Nominated As Congressman.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 14.—News has been received here of the nomination of J. S. Ross, a prominent young attorney of Oklahoma City, Okla., as congressman from his district. Mr. Ross resided in Paducah until four years ago, when he located in Oklahoma to practice his profession. One of his chief ambitions was to get into politics and when the opportunity offered he jumped into the race for congress, and won by forty-one votes. He is a Democrat. A singular coincidence is that County Judge A. W. Berkley, of this city, who began the practice of law here about the same time Ross did, and both of whom are fast friends, was nominated for congress a few days ago from this district. Both are about the same age, thirty-six.

Rifle Practice Next Week.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 12.—Camps for rifle practice will be established at Earlington, for the First and Third Infantry, and at London for the Second Infantry, Kentucky National Guard, from August 19 to 24 inclusive, for the purpose of qualifying the officers and men in the classes of sharpshooters and expert riflemen.

the constitution that will withdraw the voting franchise from negroes yet to be born. "The blacks had right to be made free men," he says "but did they have a right to be made sovereigns? And was not their sudden transformation from slaves to sovereigns the greatest cruelty that could be inflicted upon them, as well as upon the whites? Freedom was a right; suffrage was a privilege. The former was beneficial, the latter prejudicial. While securing and strengthening the former, why not withdraw the latter avoiding even the appearance of injustice by applying it only to those hereafter born?"

A Mother At Eleven.

Iowa City, Aug. 14.—The youngest mother recorded in Iowa medical history is an 11-year-old girl from near Davenport, who gave birth to a healthy 8½ pound child at the University hospital Aug. 12. The hospital authorities did not make public the girl's name.

TO TURN STATE'S EVIDENCE

Sam Schepps To Go On Stand in Rosenthal Case.

New York, Aug. 13.—Sam Schepps, alleged "paymaster of the murder crew" that killed Herman Rosenthal, is to be held on his arrival here from Hot Springs, Ark., where he was arrested Saturday, as a material witness and not as one of the accomplices, it was stated by District Attorney Whitman tonight. This form of immunity is conditional, however, upon Schepps' willingness to corroborate the stories of Jack Rose and "Bridgie" Webber, charging that Police Lieutenant Chas. Becker was the instigator of the murder.

Father and Daughter.

Bowling Green, Ky., Aug. 14.—Father and daughter were united in marriage here a few hours apart. E. T. Doughty and Miss Carrie Beller Flora were married at 10 o'clock a. m. and at 3 o'clock p. m. the groom's daughter, Miss Ruth Doughty, and Mr. Bettie Lowe were united in marriage, both ceremonies being performed by Esquire R. S. Hunter. All parties reside at Girkin, this county.

Miss Satterlee said she was met first by St. Peter, who admitted her to heaven, and with whom she held pleasant converse.

Drowned in Lake.

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 12.—Several thousand people Sunday afternoon saw 18-year-old Elizabeth Lobar, a ballconist, drown in Lake Michigan. Her parachute landed in a lake and by the time the rescuers arrived in boats the young woman had disappeared. Her body has not been found.

FAIR IS UNDER
TWENTY HEADS

Kentucky's Big Show Is Divided Into Departments Under Efficient Chiefs

THE ORGANIZATION IS IDEAL

Member of Board of Agriculture to be in Charge of Each Branch of Work Assisted by Competent Superintendent.

Twenty departments have been arranged for at the Kentucky State Fair this year and each department will be presided over by a member of the State Board of Agriculture, and in addition to the various departments having the personal supervision of a member of the board each has been provided with a competent superintendent, thus insuring to exhibitors and visitors alike careful attention. The following is the manner in which the departments have been arranged and the member of the board and the superintendent in charge of each: Horses, Commissioner J. W. Newman, member in charge, R. H. Lillard, Lawrenceburg, superintendent; Mules and Jack Stock, James M. Terry, Cynthiana, member, Guthrie M. Wilson, Bardonia, superintendent; Beef Cattle, R. J. Bassett, Leitchfield, member, W. R. Moorman, Jr., Glendau, superintendent; Dairy Cattle, M. A. Scovel, Lexington, member, E. A. Farra, Nicholasville, superintendent; Swine, J. L. Letterie, Harbids Creek, member, L. C. Owings, Jeffersonton, superintendent; Sheep and Goats, H. M. Froman, Ghent, member, W. T. Chilton, Campbellsburg, superintendent; Poultry and Pigeons, J. W. Newman, member, J. L. Gribble, Louisville, superintendent; Vegetables and Melons, J. L. Letterie, member, Charles Scholtz, Jr., Louisville, superintendent; Field Seed and Grain, G. N. McGrew, Bayou, member, H. C. Hooper, Lexington, superintendent; Education, H. M. Froman, Ghent, member, Mrs. John L. Woodbury, Louisville, superintendent; Dairy Products, Fred R. Blackburn, member, Prof. J. J. Hooper, Lexington, superintendent. For the department for plants and flowers C. R. Van Meter, of Lebanon, will be the member in charge and he will also be in charge of the racing department, while in the dog department Prof. M. A. Scovel will be the member having direct supervision.

Already the members in charge of the various departments as well as the superintendents have gone to work to assist Secretary Dent and Assistant Secretary L. B. Shropshire in arranging for the exhibits in their departments and from now until the gates are thrown open to the public the morning of Monday, September 9 these officials will be kept busy completing the details for the big show.

BENCH SHOW A FEATURE

Of Kentucky State Fair—Will Probably Be Greatest Dog Display Ever Seen in State.

Perhaps the biggest and best dog show ever seen in Kentucky, will be witnessed at the Kentucky State Fair the week of September 9-14. Heretofore the dog show feature of the State Fair has been confined exclusively to collies, but this year the management has decided to have a bench show for all breeds of dogs, and to that end dog dog fanciers throughout the state have been invited to participate in the show. Since the invitations were first issued by the management through the press several weeks ago many of the fanciers in every section of the state have joined the movement to make this feature of the fair a success. It is doubtful if there is a breed of dog known to this section of the country that is not bred and raised in Kentucky, and it is the purpose of the officials of the fair to have every breed represented. For several years the breeders of dogs, other than collies have endeavored to interest the management of the State Fair in a bench show that would include all breeds. The bench show will be under the personal supervision of a man who is well versed in the breeding of dogs, and valuable prizes will shortly be named to be distributed to the winners in the various classes.

The show will be held under the rules of the American Kennel Club. A bench show with the approval of the American Kennel Club will more than likely attract high-class dogs from New York, Chicago and all parts of the country.

ROUSSEAU'S VIEWS ON LOVE

Newly Discovered Letter Written to a Friend of the Philosopher Has Been Found.

A remarkable autograph letter of Jean Jacques Rousseau, showing in a vivid light his views on the subject of love, has just been made public in connection with the Rousseau centenary, and is considered by the critics to be an important addition to our knowledge of the great philosopher. The letter was written in 1759, the year in which "Nouvelle Héloïse" was published, and is addressed to Deleyre, Comte de Croisefeu's secretary, who had just become engaged to be married. It runs as follows:

"Dear Deleyre: You have made an idiotic mistake, for if you continue to love a promise is superfluous, while if you cease loving it is useless, and you may cause yourself the greatest embarrassment. But perhaps your promise has been paid for in spot cash. If so, I have nothing more to say. You have signed it with your blood. That is almost tragic. However, I do not know that the ink wherewith one writes makes any difference in the faith of the person who signs. I quite see that love makes children of philosophers, just as it does of the rest of us.

"Without being your friend, my dear Deleyre, I have a friendly feeling for you, and I am alarmed at your present condition. For heaven's sake, consider that love is only an illusion, and that one sees nothing as it really is when one loves."

It is pointed out as showing a curious trait in Rousseau's character that the letter was written at Montmorency, in the house in which Madame Depley, one of his admirers, had just built for him.

Installed Silk Was Changeable.

One of the large Kansas City stores owes its success, in a great measure, to its policy of exchanging goods if returned in a salable condition. An exception is made when dress materials have been cut from the bolt.

One day recently a customer purchased ten yards of a two-toned silk, which the clerk assured her was the most fashionable fabric of the season. When she reached home with her purchase she decided, on reflection, that a woolen material would be more serviceable.

Accordingly, she returned to the store the next day and requested the exchange. The clerk explained that it was an impossibility, as the goods had been cut.

"Why, I bought this with the distinct understanding," remonstrated the woman, "that I could return it. Did you not tell me it was a changeable taffeta?"

The exchange was made.

THEIR WEAPON OF DEFENSE

Mysterious Provision of Nature in the Case of Grasshoppers and Other Small Insects.

Everyone has been startled, on seeing a grasshopper, by having the animal throw off a quantity of "tobacco-juice" from his mouth. Many insects throw off quantities of juice in this manner when they are attacked, some from the mouth, some from the "joints" on the abdomen, some from special points on the head, or other parts of the body. The juice thus ejected is generally some of the insect's blood, and its sudden discharge no doubt frequently causes the captor to loosen his hold, or to drop the prey altogether. Especially is this likely in the case of those insects that emit an acrid or a poisonous liquid, as for example the "Spanish fly" or cantharides beetle. It is not to be supposed that this discharge is in any sense a voluntary act on the part of the insect; it is a direct response to certain kinds of disturbance. In this respect the action may be compared to "death-felting" in insects and in other animals. In some insects, in which the juice is discharged from the soft parts of the abdominal segments, the juice is thrown off upon suitable stimulation even after the animal's head has been removed. This curious behavior is not confined to any one family of insects, but has been observed among several species of the grasshopper family, among ants, wasps and hornets, in members of the moth and butterfly family, in true bugs and even among certain flies. The blood does not come to the surface through wounds caused by the disturbance; the opening is produced by a sudden increase in blood pressure, at points that are especially thin and yielding. The first effect of the disturbance is to cause certain muscles to contract, thus increasing the pressure in the blood, leading to the bursting of the special ejection ap-

CALLS NEW YORK SAD CITY

London Writer Compares American Metropolis to Paris, to Disadvantage of the Former.

I did not think there are anywhere sadder people than the Americans. Why, then, is New York so oppressively sad? Because nothing in it means happy laziness or invites it. Perhaps if there were seals in the avenues and the minor parks were not so like flower pots, and there were a few cafe terraces in Fifth avenue, with people drinking there—without being always at the moment of saying the life-poisoning phrase "downtown"—New York would look as cheerful as its inhabitants are bright.

Now, it is a fact that Paris has a happy appearance of its own, which it owes to its situation as much as to the work of ages, and would remain as inviting if all the Parisians were suddenly replaced by as many Chinamen. The river—the dear old familiar serviceable and yet elegant Seine, with its quays, bridges and trees—the skies you see over the Tuilleries and never seem to see anywhere else; the houses on the quays, with the Pont-Neuf and Notre Dame in the background, which Turner painted in full consciousness of the joy emanating from them; the numberless vistas which show you such objects as the Louvre, Notre Dame, the Pantheon or at present the Sacre Coeur on the Montmartre hill, all these things have the balance and detained beauty which slacken the pace of life and tend at once to make it worth living.

What else do you ask of a town? Never expect the stones to laugh.—London Saturday Review.

FLOWER GOD GRANTED WINGS

Humming Bird Has Well Been Called the Gem of the Feathered Creation.

Our continent has a monopoly of humming birds, the gems of the feathered creation. Of these there are said to be as many as 400 species, most of which confine themselves to the tropical regions.

Only eighteen varieties live further north than Mexico. It is generally thought that humming birds live upon honey. This, however, is a mistake. They do devour some honey, it is true, but most of their food consists of the small insects which inhabit certain flowers.

The little bird is therefore useful as well as beautiful and has been called a flower to which God has granted wings.

Humming birds are so small that when they are captured for commercial purposes it is impossible to use even smallest shot for fear of injuring their skins. They are therefore stunned with a drop of water from a blow gun or syringe and fall into a net, when they are quickly poisoned.

Humming birds vary in size from those half as large as a sparrow to those about the size of a bee. Their flight is so swift that they can be well seen only when poised on a flower. The little creatures bid fair to be exterminated on account of the senseless and cruel fashion of using them as trimming for women's hats.—From the Ave Maria.

Nature's Hints to Inventors.

The view has been advanced in more than one quarter that during the next two or three centuries invention will probably be in the direction of imitating the wonderful economy and the simple, direct methods of nature. An instance in point is the electric eel. Its electric organ is in no sense a storage battery, but a contrivance by which electric energy is liberated at the moment when it is required. All the organ shows so small an electric force that a good galvanometer is needed to detect it, but a sudden nervous impulse from the eel's spinal cord raises a potential of many volts with very little heat and so small an expenditure of matter as to defy the most expert chemist to weigh it. Fireflies, glow-worms, and many deep-sea fishes produce light without heat at a cost which would make a match an extravagant outlay.—Harper's Weekly.

Memory of Bacon.

Mr. Balfour recently unveiled the statue of Bacon which the Benchers have erected in Gray's Inn. In the fashioning of Gray's Inn Gardens Bacon played a considerable part. The records of the Inn show that in 1597 it was ordered that "the summe of 27 lrs. 4d. due to Mr. Bacon for planting of trees in the walkes be paid next terme."

There is evidence that Raleigh, just before his last voyage to America, had a long conversation with Bacon in the "walks." On the northwest side of the garden there is a catalpa tree which is believed to have been planted by Bacon. "It is," says the historian of the Inn, "one of the oldest in England, and may well have been brought from its native soil by Raleigh."

Weak, Cold Spells.

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L. Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches, and blind dizzy spells, and weak cold spells went all over me. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong, so I began to take Cardui. I am now all right, in good health, and better than I have been for 10 years." Cardui is a remedy for women, which has been helping sick women for nearly a life time.

You can absolutely rely upon it. Other people have done the testing and you should profit by their experience. Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Begin taking Cardui today.

SOMETHING NEW AT WEDDING

Japanese Paper Handkerchiefs for the Guests at a Recent English Ceremony.

It needs some imagination to make a wedding remarkable. No longer is there anything unprecedented in the fact that the bride and bridegroom passed from the church through an avenue of crossed swords, scythes, or whatever implement signified the bridegroom's profession.

Nor is it any longer considered original or revolutionary if the bride omits her promise of obedience during the service. These are every-day happenings of the modern wedding.

Nevertheless, a truly memorable wedding was solemnized in London recently. Whatever else the marriage of Lady Ellen Butler and the Marquis of Stafford, heir to the Duke of Sutherland, is remembered for, it will surely be remembered as the first wedding, with the exception of those of royalty, at which a Japanese paper pocket handkerchief was struck off as a memento of the event.

Indeed, the ceremony becomes still more suggestive of a royal wedding when it is realized that the "portraits" upon the souvenir of the bride and bridegroom are—whatever else they may be—remarkably good likenesses of the crown prince and princess of Sweden!

Below is given a wealth of information concerning the ceremony and the various participants therein. Purchasers are not only informed of the names of the 14 bridesmaids and given many details as to the bride's dress, but are also told that the bridegroom intends seeking parliamentary honors at the next election.

The souvenir is embroidered with gayly-colored flags, which, in some mysterious way, seem to have got mixed up with numerous sprays of what may or may not have been meant to be shamrock of a hue rarely met with.—London Daily Mirror.

NEW MAP OF THE WORLD

By the Use of Simple Uniform System It is Intelligible to All the Nations.

Publication of the first sheets of the international map of the world, on the scale of one in a million, marks the beginning of a new epoch in cartography.

For the first time we are to have a map of the world on a uniform system, in which all the sheets are arranged to fit together along the margins—uniform in their manner of reckoning longitudes from the meridian of Greenwich; uniform in their manner of reckoning heights in meters above the mean level of the sea.

They will have the same method of indicating the relief of the land, the same conventional signs for towns and roads, the same styles of lettering to distinguish between physical and political features. In a word, the whole map will be written in the same language, without difference even of idiom, and he who learns to read one sheet may read them all.

Few realize the fresh importance acquired by the art of map-making within the last ten years. The beneficiaries on a large scale are the owners and users of motor cars. Only second to them as users of the products of cartographical science are the aviators. The flying-machine is curiously dependent upon the map. An aviator must learn to read maps as he must learn to humor a petroleum motor or gasoline engine.—Current Literature.

Prisoners Seated at Small Tables.

Preparations have been completed at the federal penitentiary for seating the prisoners at small tables in the dining-room instead of seating all the 800 men together at long, low benches.

The new method of seating the prisoners for their meals is one of a number of improvements which the warden has made in the prison system in the past few years. It involved the relaying of the dining-room floor and the manufacturing of 104 small, neat tables for the men.

Each table will seat eight men, and under the new arrangement white and colored prisoners will be separated. Formerly the men were seated in rows on benches at long, desk-like tables, and there was no discrimination as to color.

Believing that the new system would conduce more largely to the individual prisoner's self-respect and aid in establishing a new viewpoint as to his obligations, the warden succeeded in providing the small tables.—Atlanta Constitution.

Natural Obstacles.

"I feel that I could overcome any obstacle for you," he declared.

"There is only one obstacle that you will have to overcome to get me," she replied.

"What is it? Tell me, and I will overcome it."

"I have made up my mind that I will never marry anyone whose ears stick out like the wings on a monoplane. Get yours to flatten themselves against your head and the obstacle will be overcome."

Now Living in Quiet.

Mme. Steinhilf, who had such a stormy time on her sensational trial and acquittal, is now living in a rural retreat near London with her daughter and son-in-law, who is an Italian artist. In the quiet of her retreat she has written the story of her life, which has just been published.

Gill at once was sworn in.

RESOLUTIONS.

Passed At the General Meeting of the Hopkinsville B. M. A.
August 9th, 1912.

Be It Resolved: Whereas our city is to be the host of the Kentucky and Tennessee W. O. W. annual encampment on the 3, 4, 5 and 6 of September, and being desirous of retaining the kindly feeling, good relations and good name we deserve we petition the Chief Executive, Hon. Chas. M. Meacham, to request all citizens to begin a campaign of street and alley cleaning so that we may be free from dirt and weeds that now exist on some of our main thoroughfares.

We especially request the Hon. Chas. M. Meacham to supervise or have some competent man to supervise the work along the street leading from West Seventh to the ball ground. That special notices be served on property owners along each side, especially on the West bank of Little River, having this side thoroughly cleaned and sprinkled with lime so that the health of our visitors camped on the West side of Little River shall not be impaired.

Believing that the chief executive has the welfare of each and every citizen of our city at heart, we the members of the H. B. M. A. herein petition him to take immediate steps causing this petition to become an official notice served by him upon request of the H. B. M. A.

FAIRY-LIKE FROCKS

Sensational Gowns Seen on Noted French Race Course.

Ideal Combination of Broderie Anglaise and Supple Taffeta Was One—Fashion Seems Turning From Mannish.

PARIS.—The most successful and brilliant race meetings of the present season was "The French Oaks" at Chantilly. The weather was magnificent and Tout Paris was to be found in the paddock and on the stands. The toilets worn that afternoon were quite lovely and the number of fairy-like gowns in ivory white mousseline was wonderful considering the uncertain weather we have had of late. Princess Murat looked exceedingly well in a robe of black and green taffeta. The outline was distinguished, but very picturesque, and the princess more a most becoming hat of black chip, wreathed in faint purple wisteria. Another effective gown was that worn by the Duchess de Brissac. It was composed of mauve and white striped foulard and the corsage opened over a lovely blouse of fine Irish lace. There was a wide turn-over collar of embroidered muslin and the accompanying hat was a picture shape in black crinoline straw, trimmed with a mass of white ostrich feathers.

Tailored Suit of Navy Blue. Countess Gerard de Rohan-Chabot wore a charming tailored suit of navy blue charmeuse satin, which showed a white cape collar of ivory white broderie Anglaise. The hat worn with this costume was narrow in the brim and the high crown was literally covered with angled feathers in rich tints of dull blue.

One of the most charming dresses seen in the paddock was that of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt. The material was black and white surah silk and the skirt was extremely cleverly draped. It seemed swathed about the figure, but at the same time it was not at all tight. Where the corsage opened in front a chemise of real Valenciennes lace was visible and at the throat there was a form of fine white tulle. With this dress Mrs. Vanderbilt wore a becoming hat in black chip, with several large black and white aligettes sweeping back over the crown.

Sensational Gown.

Among the sensational gowns seen in the paddock and at these ultra fashionable race meetings one always finds a number of sensational toilets. I especially admired one worn by a lovely young actress. The material of the round skirt and the corsage was hand painted chiffon in a rich shade of Nattier blue. The painted flowers were dull pink roses set in brown leaves and the chiffon was mounted over dull pink satin. Then there was a tunic of cream colored batiste embroidered in the fashionable open-work style called broderie Anglaise. This tunic was rather long, and a blue band of black satin ran under the border of the hem, a folded sash of the same satin outlining the waist. The corsage opened in a deep V over a chemise of ivory tulle and Valenciennes.

Another sensational dress, worn by Mlle. Prevost, was entirely composed of exquisitely fine broderie Anglaise on white muslin. The skirt fell in long straight lines in front and was draped up in a mysterious way at the back, rather low down. The corsage was folded across the bust, and the smartest possible little coatee of cherry colored taffeta was worn. This wonderful little garment was shaped like a bolero and it had no basques. At the back it was tight, but the fronts were drawn together just at the waist, and finished off by a loose butterfly bow. A large Leghorn hat lined with black satin accompanied this costume, and round the crown was a wreath of shaded roses.

Taffeta and Broderie Anglaise. The rage for taffeta and broderie Anglaise, combined, continue. We find these two, apparently incongruous, materials thrown together on every possible occasion. And undoubtedly the result is admirable. Short taffeta which shows tints of dark blue and dull red is most successfully combined with cream batiste covered with broderie Anglaise, and on such occasions the result is invariably that we admire a touch of dull black.

Worst of all, a good deal of the dress taffeta this season, and one of his models had an immense success at Chantilly. The ground was invisible green taffeta and the flowers showed blurred tints of purple and old rose. There was a draped tunic of black Chantilly lace, and the corsage was a clever arrangement of soft draperies, which showed the various tints of the flowers on the skirt. Over the shoulders there was a Marie Antoinette fichu of black Chantilly, and to crown all a picture hat of black ostrich feathers.

Beautiful Paquin Model.

I saw a lovely model created by Paquin for the race meeting of which I have just been speaking. It was an ideal combination of broderie Anglaise and supple taffeta. The under dress was entirely made of embroidered batiste in the finest quality, and the taffeta overdress, which opened wide in front, was slightly gathered at the waist and fell in long, straight folds about the figure. The corsage of this model was particularly original and pretty. Shaped frills of broderie Anglaise framed the shoulders and bust and the short sleeves had wide, turned-back cuffs. A round hat of moderate size accompanied this dress, but if the brim was comparatively small the aligettes which jutted out from the low crown were distinctly large.

Costumes for Pretty Girls.

The most popular garden party costume of the season is that entirely composed of Valenciennes lace, piece lace and graduated flounces. There is a tremendous run on Valenciennes just now, and in the faint yellow tint it is exquisitely becoming. For a fete dress of a rather elaborate order nothing could possibly be prettier than a princess robe of fine piece Valenciennes, with four or five graduated flounces reaching from the hem of the skirt to the hips. A folded fichu of the same lace might be drawn over the shoulders and then a picturesque sash of dull blue taffeta, or even of velvet ribbon, might confine the waist. Then, again, fete gowns of the same order could be made of cream broderie Anglaise, inset with motifs of handsome guipure or of real Irish crochet. A favorite style is the skirt arranged in two shaped flounces and the cross-over bodice caught in at the waist by a picturesque sash. Such dresses as these are almost always cut low at the neck, and either a chemise or a glimpse of fine tulle is worn. Flounces, in supple materials, such as lace, embroidered chiffon and silk mousseline, are daily becoming more and more fashionable, but these flounces are always mounted on a tight skirt and very often the flounces themselves are slightly gored, in order that the fullness may come directly at the hem of the skirt and not higher up.

Return to Femininity.

This season we have allowed the pendulum of fashion to swing right round. From the vain attempt to make the divided skirt, or Turkish trouser costume, popular, we have turned directly away; we will have nothing to do with these so-called "practical" styles; we are determined to be exaggeratedly feminine. Instead of the Turkish trouser we have the rippling lace flounces; instead of the ridiculous tied-in skirts we have accordion platings. And the change is a welcome one. Accordion platted flounces and soft lace draperies are becoming to all women who cultivate the feminine type; wide-brimmed hats of Leghorn and Tuscan straws set off all pretty faces and, after all, who does not bow down before the truly feminine woman.—Idalia de Villiers in the Boston Globe.

Showing Lace at Its Best.

If real lace is to have its full effectiveness it should be mounted over tulle, white being used by the best French couturiers for both white and black lace. The design and mesh are shown much more clearly by this simple means, and the fact that the lace is real is amply demonstrated. Even so slight a foundation keeps it from resolving into the limp folds that would conceal much of its beauty. Lace is greatly in vogue this season, and no pains should be spared to make any bit worn show for its best. In blouses panels are let in at any point giving a good line, and when lace is used in the lining to show dimly through the outside it is treated in the same way.

Raincoat Without Rubber.

A raincoat of a new wool weave in very light porous quality woven in an invisible herringbone stripe is said to be absolutely rain proof and to be made without rubber. The coat is made with rolling collar on the high standing band and buttons high at the throat. It comes in all possible colors, including the dust colored ones, which makes it as desirable for an automobile garment as for rain. Its weight is reduced to a minimum.

Lingerie Hatpins.

Lingerie hatpins are among this season's novelties. They are meant for wear with lingerie hats or with dainty dress hats of light straw. The heads of the pins are quite large, about two inches across. The head resembles a chou of valenciennes lace and ribbon flowers and is made of tiny ruffles.

Daintiness.

The distinguishing features of Mistris Mode is her daintiness; and lace, net, ribbons, pink and blue; floral patterns, fine voiles and diaphanous gauzes are all playing their parts with no inconsiderable charm.

EXCELLENT AS DAIRY COWS

Dutch Belted Cattle Have Same General Qualities of Holstein and Give Large Milk Yield.

Not very many pure bred herds of Dutch belted cattle are found anywhere in America, and their appearance at the cattle shows always attracts attention because of the unusual color markings. Each animal possesses the broad white belt about the body presenting the appearance of a blanket.

The Dutch belted cattle have the general qualities of the Holsteins and are inclined to large milk yield. As the herds actually exist, they are probably not equal to several other breeds in average milk yield, but the comparison is hardly fair because there are ten herds of Holsteins, Jerseys or Guernseys to one of the belted, and it is easier to select competitive herds of more popular breeds.

One of the best practical uses of the pure bred stock is in crossing with other cattle. The grade heifer of part Dutch belted ancestry is pretty sure to be a good animal for dairy purposes. She will possess the characteristic white belt, although ends of body may be red or roan instead of black. She will be a large milk yielder, the quality being good, although not particularly rich in butter fat. She is also likely to be a long lived producer and perhaps a little more hardy than most pure bred stock. The Dutch belted reproduces their quality with remarkable exactness when crossing with other stock.

RECORD OF A HOLSTEIN COW

Dairy Animal Will Make About Ten Times Better Use of Her Food Than a Good Steer.

(By PROF. A. L. HAECKER, Nebraska Agricultural College.)

To illustrate the economic work of a good dairy cow in transforming forage and grain into human food, I wish to call attention to the record of a Holstein cow owned at the Nebraska station. This cow produced in one year 18,540 pounds of milk, which contained 13 1/2 per cent. of solids, which is equivalent to 2,503 pounds of total solids, which is largely assimilative and in the most favorable condition for human food.

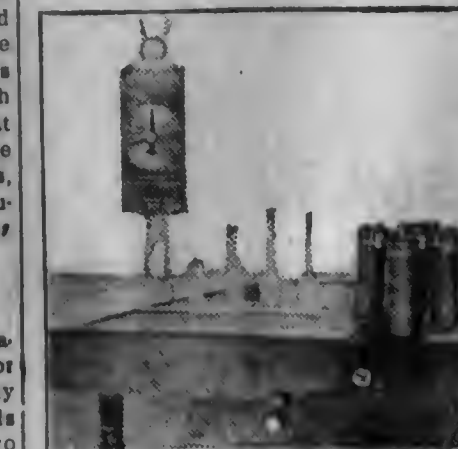

A good steer at the proper age and under the best methods of feeding will increase his weight about 750 pounds in a year. After deducting 55 or 60 per cent. of dressing, and 85 per cent. for water, we have remaining about 250 pounds of nutriment, as against 2,500 pounds for the cow. In other words a good cow makes about ten times better use of her food than a good steer.

This I have given merely to illustrate that where economy in the use of stock food is necessary, the dairy cow will prove to be a far better animal in turning profits.

BABCOCK TESTER IS PRAISED

Invention Has Revolutionized Dairying Industry—Bulletin Issued by Wisconsin Station.

A fitting recognition of Dr. Stephen Moulton Babcock's services to the dairy world through the invention of the milk tester bearing his name is found in a circular lately issued by the Wisconsin experiment station. Its title is "The Coming of Age" of the Babcock Test, and it is written by Dean Russell. In bulletin 24, issued in 1890 by the same station, the Babcock test was given to the public. The invention has so completely revolutionized dairying, putting it on a sound business basis, that upon its twenty-first birthday official recognition of the inventor's work is given by the same institution that fostered the invention. The circular contains a complete account of the invention of the tester and should be read with interest wherever cows are known.

THE SCRAP BOOK

Man Power and Coal Power.
Does any one realize the power of coal as a worker? A man was set to work to pump as hard as he could all day, and at the end of ten hours it was found that he had done just as much work as a little less than two ounces of coal could do, says Answers.

Taking all the energy put forth by a hard-working man during one whole year, the same amount of force would be furnished by thirty-six pounds of good coal, or say forty pounds of average coal.

We produce six tons a head of population, and this contains the energy of 336 men working for a whole year.

Of course even in our best engines the greater part of the working energy of coal is wasted. But even if only one-tenth is turned to account, one and a half hundredweight of coal is equal to a man working for 300 days of the year.

A horse can do as much work as ten men, but one and a quarter pounds of coal has as much working force as a horse expends in one day. So that a ton of coal, if we could use all its force, would do as much work as six horses working for a whole year.

The Supreme Court.
For the supreme court of the United States there is no exact precedent, either in the ancient or the modern times. In making the great Constitution, the "Fathers" availed themselves of all past knowledge and experience, but it was probably from the French publicist Montesquieu that they got their idea of the Supreme Court. In his book, "The Spirit of the Laws," Montesquieu has shown that there should be no liberty if the executive and the executives of the Constitution. Montesquieu's book well deserves the name of the Supreme Court from that source.

Perilous Ride.
Two sailors going from London to Glasgow had a perilous ride one recent night on buffers on the Scotch express. They concealed themselves at Euston, and got on the buffers of a passenger carriage. The train left Euston at midnight, and is timed to travel at a mile a minute, a distance of 150 miles, being the first stop.
When the express pulled up the men seemed terribly frightened, and more dead than alive. They said that the journey was piercingly cold. As they passed through three long tunnels the hot cinders emitted from the engine fire scorched them, while they were nearly suffocated by smoke. They presented a woeful appearance when taken into custody at Crewe charged with traveling without tickets.

The Rain.
About three-quarters of the rain which refreshes the continents of the earth is due to the condensation of the vapors rising from the soil and not to those coming from the oceans.
Elaborate estimates, based on all available data as presented in Germany, show that the annual rainfall for the entire globe is equivalent to a layer of water enveloping the earth to a depth of about three feet. The quantity of rain water and melted snow falling in a year is put at 11,000 cubic miles. More than two-thirds of this fall upon the sea. South America is, it is said, the only one of the continents on which the annual rainfall on land exceeds that on the surface of the sea.

Helen's Age.
Marriage was certainly not always contracted at an early age in ancient or classical days. We cannot recall an instance of a Biblical woman being married young. The glory of the classical age around which so many famous romances gather, Helen of Troy, the beautiful wonder of her time, was forty-seven when she married Menel-aus, fifty when she eloped, or was abducted by the youth Paris, and over sixty when she re-captured Menelaus by her beauty and induced him to take her back. This was in a land where women now grow old soon. Yet none of the ancient Greek writers seem to have thought the story remarkable or account of her age.

Rhodes.
Rhodes, recently brought to the public notice by the Italian attack, is said to have been peopled from Crete as early as B. C. 916. Rhodes, its chief city, was built about B. C. 420, and had its most flourishing time from 350 to 200 B. C., after which it began to decline. It was at Rhodes that the famous Colossus stood, for a long time one of the "Seven Wonders" of the world. The island and city are replete with history, especially in connection with the celebrated orders of knights, chief among which were the Hospitallers and the Knights of St.
John. It fell into the hands of the Turks about 1522.

Terrible Train Of Trouble.

Lake Charles, La.—Mrs. E. Founnier, 516 Kirby street, says: "The month before I took Cardui, I could hardly walk. I had backache, headache, pain in my legs, chills, fainting spells, sick stomach, dragging feelings, and no patience or courage.
Since taking Cardui, I have no more pains, can walk as far as I want to,
and feel good all the time." Take Cardui and be benefited by the peculiar herb ingredients which have been found so efficient for womanly ills. Cardui will relieve that backache, headache, and all the misery from which you suffer, just as it has done for others. Try Cardui.

MISSOURI SWINE HOUSE PLAN

Building With Concrete Floor Is Shown In Illustration—Hogs Manipulate Swinging Doors.

An excellent plan for a hog house is given by William Critchell in the Missouri Valley Farmer as follows:
Illustration No. 1 shows the floor plan of my hog house, 24 by 60 feet.
In this house there are 16 stalls, 6 by 8 feet divided into a sleeping place 3 by 6 feet and a feeding place 5 by 6 feet—one cooker room 8 by 12 feet, one feed bin 8 by 12 feet, and a driveway 8 feet wide with sliding roller doors.

No. 2 gives an idea of the concrete floor, 24 feet wide. A is the sleeping place, B the feeding floor with a 2-inch rise next to bedding to keep out litter, C the driveway 8 feet wide. A, C and A are all on the same level. The feeding floors (BB) are 6 inches higher than AA, sloping to 4 inches higher than C.
All litter drops into the driveway, where it can be taken up and hauled out as fertilizer. No. 3 shows the house plan, with lighting space at top and small swinging doors at bottom.
These doors are hinged at the top so as to swing both in and out. The hogs soon learn to open them, and they always stay shut. I would use 4 by 4 dimension lumber and make building 6 feet to first eaves and 14 feet to the

of Feeding Floor; No. 3, Form of House.

second, giving a window space at top of 4 feet. Placing a post at each corner of every stall gives plenty of strength; then by putting in a few girts, siding up with No. 1 stock boards nailed on up and down and stripping the cracks, you have a good building.
The roof should have half pitch. Pieces of 2 by 4, 10 feet long, make the lower rafter and these cut in the middle make the upper rafter.

DEVICE FOR RINGING SWINE

Crate Illustrated for Operation That One Man Operate Without Slightest Trouble.

Here is a device that is a great help for ringing hogs. One man can operate it without any trouble. Back it up to the hog pen door, run the hog in between the slats a and b, which are then pulled together so tight that he can be handled without trouble.
The crate should be 1 foot 10 inches wide, 2 feet 8 inches high and 3 1/2 feet long, with a solid floor mounted on runners. The crate should have a

Ringling Crate.

top as well as a sliding door at the rear. The sliding levers, a, b, are made of 1 by 4 inch hardwood, with a notch cut in each to fit the neck of the hog. There should be holes in the bottom board, c, to adjust the levers for large or small pigs.

The Bawling Cattle.

The grower of beef cattle is sure to weed out the one that is continually bawling, when it should be grazing for the simple reason that there is more waste than gain of adipose tissue at such a time. The stock content to feed upon the good pasture at hand rather than busy themselves trying to break into forbidden fields, possibly not nearly as good, are the ones that make the most gain in weight.

Examine Sheep Carefully.

The flesh condition of a sheep cannot be judged by looking at it. Always go over a sheep with the fingers, examining every part of its anatomy before sending it to market.

Pugnacious Dorsets.

One good quality in the Dorsets is their pugnacious disposition which makes them able to use their big horns in a defense against dogs.

PLANTERS AND INDEPENDENT BUYERS.

Chairman Foust Denies Rumors That Alliance Has Been Formed Between Them.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 14.—At the regular meeting of the Montgomery County Tobacco Association here Monday Chairman Foust denied the rumor that an alliance had been formed between the independent dealers and the organization. He said there was a conference at which the dealers made a proposition to have their tobacco, consisting of about 7,000 hogsheads, sold through the association. This was refused, he said, because the officials had no power to so act if they desired. He also stated that Messrs R. E. Cooper and James West, of Hopkinsville, began work today in an effort to organize the farmers in four Kentucky counties, believing that the interests of all demanded it. He also stated that the officials of the association had agreed that if any members needed money on tobacco, they would get from the warehouses all that could be advanced, and pay the interest from association funds, and if extra storage was demanded to pay that expense also. After the meeting was closed, the chairman met to consider the employment of prizes for the growing crop.
